

Alissa Abraham, DNP, APRN, AGNP-C

From a very young age, I knew I was destined for health care and to impact those living with complex or chronic diseases. For the past 12+ years, my nursing career has led me down a laser focused path of caring for the aging adult population. Wherever seniors call home, I have been privileged to be able to be a part of their care.

My ongoing practice as a Geriatric Nurse Practitioner will focus on delivering high quality and evidence-based primary care for aging adults with complex or chronic health conditions. I feel it is vital that each individual feels heard and involved in their care with planning focused on the individual's defined health and life goals.

Jennifer Welsh, MD

I provide whole person care, centered on what matters most to patients and their families. The people I care for often have a lot going on with their health; many different medical conditions and symptoms that are not fully managed are quite common. I work with patients, families, and the rest of the care team to figure out how to help patients feel as good as they can feel. Conversations with patients and their families about what matters most are critically important at this phase of life. I will deliver high quality care and work to help you have more good days.
