I really enjoy my work and working with older adults. I love hearing all the life stories, and working in a team environment like the nursing home. It is a privilege getting to know residents and their families, and I've taken care of a lot of people from the same families over the years. Sometimes I get to work with residents and their families for decades, other times just weeks. Either way I try to help them along their journey, and get to know what is important to them.

I love Genevive's focus on person-centered care in which a patient's values and goals shape the team's clinical care plan. While I provide information to patients about the latest evidence-based guidelines, my goal is to make sure that every patient and their family feels cared for, heard, empowered and supported in fulfilling their personal vision for the next stage of their lives.

Guided by the belief that excellent health care is a basic human right, I have concentrated my 20+ year career in family medicine on populations whose voices have historically gone unheard or been neglected, including seniors from a wide range of cultural backgrounds, and I'm grateful to be able to continue that work here.
