Eva Wilson DNP, APRN, CNP

I started my healthcare journey as a CNA 20 years ago working in different healthcare settings including nursing homes and hospitals. My interest in going back to school and becoming a Nurse Practitioner was motivated by my personal experience during my father's transition.

Dedicated to lifelong learning and patient-centered care, I am passionate about providing holistic, compassionate, individual-focused care and education to patients and their families. I strive to provide high-quality care to all my patients. I love creating a bond with my patients and their families.

Brian Dixon, MD

If primary care doctors are the "people doctors," then seniors are by far my favorite people. Getting to know my patients and their families is something I value highly. Guiding them through the decisions and complexities that arise in their health care is also highly rewarding. It is at GENEVIVE, helping the frailest of these patients manage chronic disease, acute illness and end-of-life transitions, where I believe a physician can have the greatest impact in primary care.
