

Kaley Hagen
APRN, CNP

About I am passionate about providing patient and family centered care while maintaining the highest quality of life for the patient. I strive to meet my patients and families where they are and to build trusting relationships with them as their provider.

I enjoy managing complex patients, chronic disease management, and educating patients and families on disease processes in order for them to have the best understanding possible and to be able to make informed decisions on their care.

About If primary care doctors are the “people doctors,” then older adults are by far my favorite people. Getting to know my patients and their families is something I value highly. Guiding them through the decisions and complexities that arise in their health care is also highly rewarding. It is at Genevive, helping the frailest of these patients manage chronic disease, acute illness, and end-of-life transitions, where I believe a physician can have the greatest impact in primary care.
